

In LOVE

>> sunday, march 28, 2010 - big family, money

I HAVE to tell you about my new FAVORITE product. The very nice people at Orsani asked me if I would review the Robby Ball. I know. You get tired of reviews on blogs, but you really should read this one. If you do laundry, if you want to save money, and you care about the environment and your family's health, then continue reading.

The deal with this review is that they send me the product, I try it out and I write an honest review. {I don't get anything if you buy one, although I think you should} Simply put....

I am in LOVE with it. And even if I wasn't asked to review this, I would want to tell you about it anyway. I am that excited about it.

This little ball replaces ANY need for laundry detergent. YUP. You won't need to buy any detergent for one whole year with one little ball. Sounds great, right?

Well, being that I am totally a skeptic, I really thought it wouldn't work. I am here to tell you, it works WONDERS. Stains no more. It is so simple. And since I despise doing laundry and I spend more time doing it than I wish I did, I am extremely happy that this makes the job that much easier. PLUS it saves you loads of money AND it is better for the environment.

All you do it pop the ball in with your wash. That's it. When the wash is done, you take it out before you put your clothes in the dryer. Apparently in Europe it has been popular for years. Why on earth we haven't heard about it in the states is beyond me.

My favorite part is, it is eco-friendly, hypoallergenic, and safe – even for baby's laundry. I have been using it to wash Kai's things and he has had no issues at all. He has extremely sensitive skin and regular laundry detergent made him break out in rashes.

Some facts on the Robby Ball

*Superior cleaning ability when compared to traditional laundry detergent – Robby Wash he detergent is independently tested, proven and guaranteed.

*Saves money by eliminating the need to buy additional laundry detergent for up to one year – saving each consumer more than $100 per year.

*Easy to use – simply place the Robby Wash he detergent in the washer – no additional laundry detergents will ever be needed.

*Saves the environment by eliminating use of more than 75 lbs. of traditional laundry detergent each year.

*Contains safe hypoallergenic laundry detergent formulas and can be used as baby laundry detergent.

*Meets the strict environmental compliance requirements of Europe (more stringent than U.S.) and contains no phosphates or chlorine. Has received safety certifications from REACH and RoHS. Each ball is made of durable ABS materials.

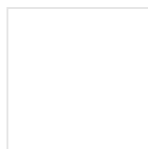

*Economical refills allow each Robby Wash ball to last two to three years.

*A free stain stick is included with each Robby Wash ball.

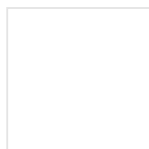

I know you want one. I myself will not be going back to regular detergent. Ever.

Visit their site to order or for more info.

You might also like:

Clown car

Surviving

Practice Saying No

BlogHer Publishing Network

Read Sandy from Eat Real's review and enter to win $200!

Enter now >

BlogHer Exclusive Offer

Advertise | BlogHer Privacy Policy

More from BlogHer

Long Week

Maria Llerena is the Queen of Salsa in Sweden and a nominee for African-Swedish Woman of the Year

My escorts to the bus

What The Pioneer Woman

Wears on a Date

Search BlogHer Network

More from iVillage

John Cusack: I Won't Live Up to Women's Expectations

Wife to the Rockstar and mother of 10 treasures. I am passionate about adoption. I love photography. I don't claim to have it all together. Our life may be chaotic. Our house may be full. Our grocery bill may be outrageous. The laundry may be endless. But, we wouldn't change one thing. We are storing up